MARCH 17, 1899

St. Louis Daily Globe-Democrat

April 15, 1899

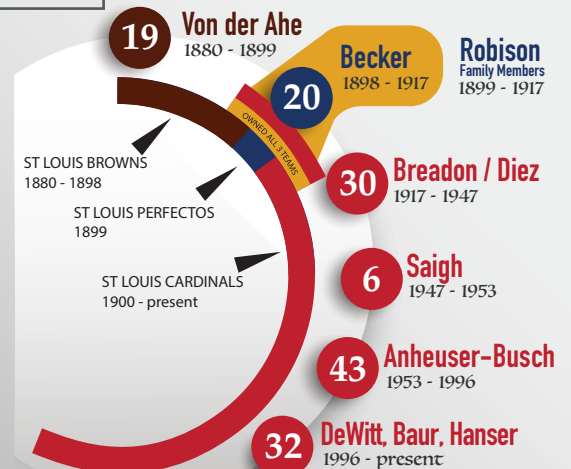

Never in the history of the sport, not even in the days of the old champion Brown Stockings, has the St. Louis public shown as much interest in baseball as it has evinced since Frank De Haas Robison and Edward C. Becker became joint owners of the local franchise and placed Patsy Tebeau and his crack team on the home diamond.

Becker owned all three St Louis teams:
 Browns
 Perfectos
 Cardinals

BECKER

- 1894 became a director
- 1898 became a partner
- 1899 purchased Browns
- 1899 sold 50% to Robisons Bros*
- 1899 renamed team Perfectos
- 1900 renamed team Cardinals

*deal included Cy Young to play in St Louis
